Hidden heads of households : child labor in urban ... The head of household standard deduction for 2020 is $18,650. Contrast this with single filers and married individuals who file separate returns—they can claim only a $12,400 standard deduction. Married taxpayers who file joint returns get a $24,800 deduction, but this works out to one $12,400 deduction for each of them, just as though they were single. The Rules for Claiming Head of Household Filing Status In this issue I am going to focus on the head of household filing status. For an unmarried individual to claim head of household, he or she has to maintain a household for more than half the year that is the principal residence of an unmarried qualifying child (or qualifying relative) for dependency exemption purposes. Unmarried with Children – Head of Household | Travis H ... Can two people both qualify for head of household (HOH) filing status if they live at the same address? It's not quite a yes-or-no question because the answer is based on numerous qualifying factors. All factors must be met to claim head of household, and living with another adult blurs at least one of them a great deal. Can Two People Claim Head of Household at Same Address? Head of Household is a filing status for individual United States taxpayers. To use the Head of Household filing status, a taxpayer must: Be unmarried or considered unmarried at the end of the year. Have paid more than half the cost of keeping up a home for the tax year.
