Short Manual of the Amharic Language(with Vocabularies). Routledge

Fundamental Amharic Exercise / Teaching Book Ethiopia, the land of vast riches and cultures, is also home to people who speak more than 80 different languages. Amharic is the most widely & commonly used language. Unlike much of languages spoken in Africa, Amharic has its own writing system called "Feedel" making it one of the most unique language in the world. My initial motivation for preparing this book was my daughter growing up outside of Ethiopia. I wanted her to speak and write Amharic to help her maintain a bond with her ancestral land of Ethiopia, its rich heritage and history. While doing an extensive research and compiling materials for this book, I found out that this book will serve many like my daughter. Children who are born outside of Ethiopia and adoptees, growing up in the diaspora; by helping them maintain some degree of relationship with their Ethiopian heritage. The book is also an invaluable resource for non-Ethiopians who possess some sort of ties to Ethiopia & Ethiopians, academicians, historians, researchers etc. It will help them better understand the mysteries of Ethiopia, Ethiopians, society and the culture; whether it's through the vast array of Amharic literature available or direct communication with the people. The teaching methodology used in the book is simple and easy to understand. The approach is based on the ancient way of teaching the language starting from "Feedel" or the Amharic characters; familiarizing the student with sounds and pronunciations, then grammar and vocabulary along with writing and penmanship. An Amharic language student of can benefit greatly by starting to learn Feedel at the same time he or she starts to learn the language. Once students master Feedel, they will recognize all the sounds of the Amharic language. Learning grammar and vocabulary, even for speaking, will be easier and faster, with the help of written materials. This book is designed exactly to do that.

Dear Parents, Amharic is written left-to-right using a system that grew out of the Ge'ez script. The writing system is called fidäl (ፊደል) in Ethiopian Semitic languages. Fidäl means "script", "alphabet", "letter", or "character". The writing system is also called abugida (ጸባባታ), from the first four symbols; from this the modern term abugida is derived. Each character represents a consonant+vowel sequence, but the basic shape of each character is determined by the consonant, which is modified for the vowel. Some consonant phonemes are written by more than one series of characters: /r/, /s/, /S/, and /h/ (the last one has four distinct letter forms). This is because these fidel originally represented distinct sounds, but phonological changes merged them. The language is a basic characteristic which constitutes one's own representation of who you are. Children and Parents may feel that using English as a common language, it won't matter whether they learn Amharic or not. It happens that your child might just stop speaking Indonesian, leading to identity change. Since a child's Amharic language skills are lacking, they will not be able to interact well in Amharic as they do in English. How can parents support their child's learning process? Here the solution is! This book enables your kids to practice and learn letters, words in an interesting way. Content of the book: For each alphabet letter there will be 2 pages. - 1st page has an outline of a letter with the image that starting with that letter, name in Amharic, English with the phonics of Amharic name and image. - The children can color the letter and images that are allocated for each letter. - 2nd page is for practicing the letter and its multiple extended forms. - This book has similar setup for all the alphabets till page number 70. - 71-95 is having box spaces to practice Amharic alphabet further. That looks like a great start right!!! Hope your kids will learn something useful in the meantime. Let us gift meaningful book as a gift to our kids. If you loved the book, we request you to take a moment to review it?. It helps in further progression for our future works. Thanks for your support, Team SECOND TEACHER(TM)

During the last decade and a half, The use of local languages for official purposes, particularly in primary education, has become a pronounced characteristic of Ethiopian education system. The fact that as many as 22 languages have been introduced into the school system since mid 1990s represents a major ideological shift from the previous policies the country had adopted over the course of several centuries. The Ethiopian educational language policy is radical in its scope and unique in Sub-Saharan Africa and elsewhere, and it invites a close examination of its ideological foundation and, even more so, its implementation model. The primary objective of this study was to make a critical appraisal of the implementation of vernacular education in the Harari region and examine the challenges of providing primary education in several Ethiopian and international languages, i.e. English, Amharic, Oromo, Arabic and Harari. The study made a comparative assessment of the use of languages as media of instruction for primary education, and concluded with an appraisal of the relative strengths and weaknesses in the use of each language, from both pedagogical and social perspectives.

This is the premier language course for learning Amharic. The underlying method of this text course is guided imitation, and the aim is the ability to respond effectively in everyday scenarios. The ultimate goal of this Amharic course is to speak Amharic accurately and easily through vocabulary building, conversational dialogs, and grammar sections. The course provides for the assimilation of all basic forms and patterns of the Amharic language by the guided imitation, memorization, and manipulation of a large number of sentences and by practice of common everyday situations. The course includes a printed text book. This is one of the courses produced for US Foreign Service personnel based on courses produced during World War II by the American Council of Learned Societies when the US needed materials that would teach languages to soldiers fast. It is remarkable that students of Amharic have such an excellent course available for such a relatively rarely-studied language.

Amharic Basic Course - Student Text Volume One is part of the FSI Amharic Basic Course. FSI Courses are language courses developed by the Foreign Service Institute and were primarily intended for US government employees. This courses are very intense to let a learner achieve proficiency as fast and as efficient as possible. Keep in mind that most of the courses were developed during the cold war area between 1960 and 1990 and the type set in this book is therefore not as accurate as you might expect.
