Every business idea or startup idea has to be tested. Startup idea validation can save you time, resources and point you out in the right direction so that you take the right decisions and reach the best target audience for your startup. Many successful startups had validated their ideas long before they decided to build a minimum viable product. Simply put, they answer the "how do I validate my startup idea" early on — and in their own way — and decided to move on building a minimum ... Startup Idea Validation: 5
