This work is based on the book al-Fawa'id al-Muhibbiyah, authored by Qari Anis Ahmad Khan. My knowledge concerning Qari Anis is limited. However, having studied many of his works under the auspices of my ustadh Qari Ayyub Ishaq, I can comfortably state that his books portray his proficiency and brilliance in the science of qira'at. This is to no surprise, in that after having studied qira'at in Deoband he stated that his thirst had not been quenched regarding the science and travelled on to Lucknow where he studied under a number of specialists. This work serves as an introduction for the beginner, a reminder for the teacher, and precis for the English-speaker about the theory surrounding qira'at. Coupled with the English, the footnotes are a reiteration of the rules in Arabic. The English text is aimed at the beginner, whereas the footnotes are taken from the Shatibiyyah as an instruction for one who desires to study the Shatibiyyah, as well as a guide for the teacher. The book also holds a brief explanation, as well as a translation of the introduction (muqaddimah) of the Shatibiyyah, a biography of Qari Anis Ahmad and Imam Shatibi, as well as some links of the author to the great Imam. The book concludes with a dictionary of technical terms employed by qurra.

Tajweed Diagrams I and II Combined is a book of detailed, yet concise diagrams of both foundational and advanced tajweed lessons along with related tajweed poems, as narrated by Hafis from 'Asim by the way of Shatibiyyah. In Tajweed Diagrams I and II Combined, lessons are visually appealing. There is less text per page, and the information is boiled down to the essentials, which helps students focus and recall. Students can see an entire unit in an introductory page, and then turn the page to see full lessons laid out in a single diagram. Teachers have an easy resource when preparing lessons, and a layout for their presentations. This edition eliminates the lined pages that were included in the authors other books, and were intended for note taking, allowing for a full tajweed text book and more information per copy. Topics covered in Tajweed Diagrams I and II Combined include laying the foundations of tajweed by understanding the articulation points and characteristics of letters, the foundations of elongated ghunnah, the foundations of elongated vowels, interactions among identical, similar, close, and far letters, as well as regulating the reciter's breathing and pauses so as to correctly convey the meanings of the verses being read. In addition, this book includes a brief history of the written and oral Qur'an, the connected and disconnected, the Feminine Haa, stopping with roam and ishmaam on words ending with consonants, advanced topics in medd, stopping on words ending with vowels, and special cases in the recital of Hafis from 'Asim by the way of Shatibiyyah. The Transmission of the Variant Readings of the Qur'an Routledge Through a combination of rich architectural and ethnographic description, this study of apprenticeship and human spatial cognition provides a fascinating insight into the daily lives and activities of a professional class of craftsmen, and investigates the unique teaching-learning processes that distinguish their trade and mould both their professional and social characters.

This book, Al-Fawaid: A Collection of Wise Sayings is one of the well-known compilations of Imam Ibn Qayyim Al-Jawziyyah, Born: January 28, 1292, (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ibn_Qayyim_al-Jawziyya) who is well known by the name Ibn Al-Qayyim. This blessed book is not like others that simply contain sections, chapters and themes, but it consists of the elevated thoughts that the Creator, Exalted be He, bestows upon some of His servants as He wills. So whenever any of these scattered pearls of wisdom occurred to the Imam, he would immediately record them. I am sure that he did not sit down and write this book in one or two weeks, but surely it was developed over a long period of time. Whenever something came to his mind, he would record it, and whenever he learnt a lesson or anything crucial in his life, he would illuminate the lines of his page with the ink of his pen

For the Muslim faithful, the familiar sound of the Qur'anic recitation is the predominant and most immediate means of contact with the Word of God. Heard day and night, on the street, in taxis, in shops, in mosques, and in homes, the sound of recitation is far more than the pervasive background music of daily life in the Arab world. It is the core of religious devotion, the sanctioning spirit of much cultural and social life, and a valued art form in its own right. Participation in recitation, as reciter or listener, is itself an act of worship, for the sound is basic to a Muslim's sense of religion and invokes a set of meanings transcending the particular occasion. For the most part, Westerners have approached the Qur'an much as scriptural scholars have studied the Bible, as a collection of written texts. The Art of Reciting the Qur'an aims at redirecting that focus toward a deeper understanding of the Qur'an as a fundamentally oral phenomenon. By examining Muslim attitudes toward the Qur'an, the institutions that regulate its recitation, and performer-audience expectations and interaction, Kristina Nelson, a trained Arabist and musicologist, casts new light on the significance of Qur'anic recitation within the world of Islam. Her landmark work is of importance to all scholars and students of the modern Middle East, as well as ethnomusicologists, anthropologists, linguists, folklorists, and religious scholars.

Shaikh Muhammad al-Tahir ibn Ashur is the most renowned Zaytuna Imam and one of the great Islamic scholars of the 20th century. The publication of this translation of Shaikh Ibn Ashur's Treatise on Maqasid al-Shari'ah is a breakthrough in studies on Islamic law in the English language. In this book, Ibn Ashur proposed Maqasid as a methodology for the renewal of the theory of Islamic law, which has not undergone any serious development since the era of the great imams. Ibn Ashur – quite courageously – also addressed the sensitive topic of the intents/Maqasid of Prophet Muhammad (SAAS) behind his actions and decisions. He introduced criteria to differentiate between the Prophetic traditions that were meant to be part of Islamic law and the Prophetic actions/ sayings that were meant to be for the sake of specific purposes such as political leadership, court judgment, friendly advice, and conflict resolution. But Ibn Ashur's most significant contribution in this book has been the development of new Maqasid by coining new, contemporary, terminology that were never formulated in traditional usul al-fiqh. For example, Ibn Ashur developed the theory of the 'preservation of lineage' into 'the preservation of the family system', the 'protection of true belief' into 'freedom of beliefs', etc. He also introduced the concepts of 'orderliness', 'natural disposition', 'freedom', 'rights', 'civility', and 'equality' as Maqasid in their own right, and upon which the whole Islamic law is based. This development opens great opportunities for Islamic law to address current and real challenges for Muslim societies and Muslim minorities.

The present book aims to take on this challenge by looking at the major problems from these various aspects, as just mentioned. Obviously, one short book can hardly address all these problems and suggest solutions without certain simplifications and potentially controversial assertions. Nevertheless, it can hope to present a systematic analysis and suggested prognosis based on a coherent philosophy. As indicated above, nothing is more needed in our times, and second to spiritual weakening, the greatest problem of all facing the Islamic World (and indeed the whole world) is lack of understanding of the true natures and essences of things. This book examines 'our times' from an Islamic philosophical worldview, looking at the problems facing the Islamic World in the near past, present and future respectively in three mutually complementary parts. At the end of each part, it suggests holistic and easily applied remedies to the problems it examines. In other words (and for those who enjoy sonorous German and Greek philosophical terms) it examines the Zeitgeist from the Weltanschauung of Islam and suggests panaceas. Prince Ghazi bin Muhammad has written a number of books and guides for thinking people, and this small but potent work before you sums up many of his most keen and cogent insights and conclusions; for that reason, this may be his most impactful and motivational work to date.

In 1768, Ahmad al-Damanhūrī became the rector (shaykh) of al-Azhar, which was one of the most authoritative and respected positions in the Ottoman Empire. He occupied this position until his death. Despite being a prolific author, whose writings are largely extant, al-Damanhūrī remains almost unknown, and much of his work awaits study and analysis. This book aims to shed light on al-Damanhūrī's diverse intellectual background, and that of and his contemporaries, building on and continuing the scholarship on the academic thought of the late Ottoman Empire. The book specifically investigates the intersection of medical and religious knowledge in Eighteenth-Century Egypt. It takes as its focus a manuscript on anatomy by al-Damanhūrī (d. 1778), entitled "The Clear Statement on the Science of Anatomy (al-qawl al-sharīḥ fī 'ilm al-tashrīḥ)". The book includes an edited translation of The Clear Statement, which is a well-known but unstudied and unpublished manuscript. It also provides a summary translation and analysis of al-Damanhūrī's own intellectual autobiography. As such, the book provides an important window into a period that remains deeply understudied and a topic that continues to cause debates and controversies. This study, therefore, will be of keen interest to scholars working on the "post-Classical" Islamic world, as well as historians of religion, science, and medicine looking beyond Europe in the Early Modern period.

This book is an abridgment of my earlier work entitled, Adh-Dhikr wad-Du'a wal-'Ilaj bir-Ruqyah mina'-Kitab was-Sunnah. In order to make it small and easily portable, I have chosen only the section on words of remembrance for this abridgment. To achieve this, I only mentioned the text of the words of remembrance instead of the entire Hadith. I also limited myself to mentioning only one or two references from the original book for each Hadith. Whoever would like to know about the Companion who related a particular Hadith, or more information about where it is recorded, should refer to the original work (mentioned above). I ask Allah the Glorious, the Mighty, by His beautiful Names and by His sublime Attributes to accept this as having been done sincerely for His sake alone. I ask Him to bring me its benefits during my lifetime and after my death. May those who read it, those who print it, or have had any role in distributing it, benefit from it also. Surely He, glory be unto Him, is Capable of all things. May the peace and blessings of Allah be upon our Prophet, Muhammad, and upon his family and Companions and whoever follows them in piety until the Day of Judgment. Said

La science de la croyance est au cœur de la spiritualité islamique. Son importance justifie le nombre d'ouvrages qui lui sont consacrés. La traduction de deux ouvrages concis, mais fondamentaux, de l'imam al-Sanussiy en langue française participe à la diffusion des œuvres classiques du patrimoine musulman. En effet, les deux ouvrages traduits dans le présent livre figurent parmi les écrits les plus célèbres du Shaykh Muhammad ibn Yusuf al-Sanussiy. Ce savant des fondements de la religion nous donne un résumé des éléments de foi que tout musulman doit connaître. Ces éléments de foi sont ensuite prouvés par déduction rationnelle, selon la méthode traditionnelle. Le but clair de l'auteur, ainsi que du traducteur par son choix, est de remettre au goût du jour la méthode rationnelle dans l'approche de la science de l'unicité divine.

Tajweed Diagrams II covers advanced topics intended for students and teachers who have spent years learning the recital of Hafs from 'Asim by the way of Shatibiyyah. After Tajweed Diagrams I was published, Ms. Akyurt's students requested that she publish a similar book that covers more advanced topics. Topics covered in Tajweed Diagrams II include a brief history of the written and oral Qur'an, the connected and disconnected, the Feminine Haa, stopping with roam and ishmaam on words ending with consonants, advanced topics in medd, stopping on words ending with vowels, and special cases. As in her previous book, lessons are visually appealing. There is less text per page, and the information is boiled down to the essentials, which helps students focus and recall. Teachers easily see an overview of the lessons, and thus are easily able to present it to their advanced learners. Both teachers and students have space for taking notes and adding detail and more examples when needed.
