Could this be Max Remy's most dangerous Spyforce mission yet? Life's a drag for Max Remy. Her mum is getting married to her sop of a boyfriend, Aiden. Her dad wants Max to visit him in Hollywood, but she's not allowed to fly there on her own. And her arch-enemy, Toby Jennings, is acting strangely at school. A weekend at Mindawarra with her friend Linden soon cheers her up, especially when she discovers that Ben, Eleanor and Francis have finished their improvements to the Time and Space Machine and are taking it to America. Now Max has someone to travel with! But Max soon discovers that Hollywood isn't all glitz and glamour. First Toby Jennings turns up unexpectedly to crash her holiday. Then Max can't seem to do anything right on the set of her father's latest blockbuster. And Spyforce uncovers a fiendish plot within the movie industry to program hidden secrets into Hollywood films bound for worldwide distribution. Can Max and Linden find Dr Biggus Fartie, the world-renowed encoding expert, before it's too late? Why does Max's father stop paying any attention to her? And what is the mysterious Raychik really up to in the editing suite? This may turn out to be Max Remy's most dangerous Spyforce mission yet ...

Instigations Remy

Once he was known as the angel Remiel, but generations ago Boston PI Remy Chandler chose to renounce Heaven and live on Earth, where he found a secure place among us ordinary humans... As an Angel, Remy Chandler possesses powers and skills he puts to good use in his chosen profession—but only if the situation calls for it. And the sudden reappearance of the Garden of Eden is definitely one such situation, since the seemingly benevolent Sons of Adam want him to find the Key to the Gates of Eden. But there are those who want the Gates to stay shut, for there is something terrible and dangerous buried in the Garden... Caught between two warring factions of immortals, Remy must decide how to proceed: find the Key, or not? Desperate for help, he turns to a very old acquaintance—a fallen angel who is sometimes friend, sometimes foe, and always deadly.

Remy's Painter Penguin

"I will do anything to make her MINE."
—Remington Tate In the international bestseller REAL, the unstoppable bad boy of the Underground fighting circuit finally met his match. Hired to keep him in prime condition, Brooke Dumas unleashed a primal desire in Remington "Remy" Tate as vital as the air he breathes...and now he can't live without her. Brooke never imagined she would end up with the man who is every woman's dream, but not all dreams end happily ever after, and just when they need each other the most, Brooke is torn away from the ringside. Now with distance and darkness between them, the only thing left is to fight for the love of the man she calls MINE.

Remy Lai, the award-winning creator of Pie in the Sky makes her middle-grade

graphic novel debut, Pawcasso, about the unexpected friendship between the shyest girl in class and the coolest canine in town. "It's tail-wagging entertaining!" —Kelly Yang, New York Times bestselling author of Front Desk Every Saturday, Pawcasso trots into town with a basket, a shopping list, and cash in paw to buy groceries for his family. One day, he passes eleven-year-old Jo, peering out the window of her house, bored and lonely. Astonished by the sight of an adorable basket-toting dog on his own, Jo follows Pawcasso, and when she's seen alongside him by a group of kids from her school, they mistake her for Pawcasso's owner. Excited to make new friends, Jo reluctantly hides the truth and agrees to let "her" dog model for an art class the kids attend. What could go wrong? But what starts as a Chihuahua-sized lie quickly grows Great Dane-sized when animal control receives complaints about a dog roaming the streets off-leash. With Pawcasso's freedom at stake, is Jo willing to spill the truth and risk her new friendships? "A beautifully drawn and delightful story bursting with art, books, and fun!" —Maria Scrivan, New York Times bestselling author of Nat Enough and Forget Me Nat

 Six year-old Zoe York has been taken and her mother has come to Remy for help. She shows him crude, childlike drawings that she claims are Zoe's visions of the future, everything leading up to her abduction, and some beyond. Like the picture of a man with wings who would come and save her-a man who is an angel. Zoe's preternatural gifts have made her a target for those who wish to exploit her power to their own destructive ends. The search will take Remy to dark places he would rather avoid. But to save an innocent, Remy will ally himself with a variety of lesser evils- and his soul may pay the price...

Murder with a meat cleaver. A mysterious mansion .Designer drugs made in Belize. A $500,000 windfall. "Can you find my son?" Stella Henderson asks Remy Velasquez. "He's been missing three months." Remy Velasquez shrugs. He just wanted to have a few days off, maybe a few months, relaxing in this favorite watering hole, the Shoulder Bar, in Ft. Lauderdale. After all, Remy took early retirement in paradise to get away from...well, everything. Turns out Remy can't say no. He's pretty good, very good, too good for his own good, at finding missing people, mostly runaways. And people know it. Remy finds the missing son, but not before he discovers a drug dealer with a meat cleaver stuck in his chest. Did the son do it? Or is the murderer a runaway Remy once found, come back to Ft. Lauderdale? And what's going on at the mysterious mansion out in the swamplands? Along the way Remy helps the Scarlet Avenger get back some money from online scammers up in Daytona Beach, but Remy doesn't get to drive a car in the sand.

Never forget / to connect the dots / This book is an attempt to connect a couple. In?Begin by Telling, experimental pop sensation and Polaris nominee Meg Remy spins a web out from her body to myriad corners of American hyper-culture. Through illustrated lyric essays depicting memories from early childhood to present day, Remy paints a stark portrait of a spectacle-driven country. These memories are visceral. As though channel surfing, we catch glimpses of Desert Storm, the Oklahoma City Bombing, random street violence, the petrochemical industry, small town Deadheads, a toilet with uterus lining in it, the county STD clinic, and missionaries at the front door. Each is shared through language of the body; the sensation of experiencing many of the defining events and moments of a country. These threads nimbly interweave with probing quotes and statistics, demonstrating the importance of personal storytelling, radical empathy and the necessity of both systemic and self-study. Immersive and utterly compelling, ?Begin by Telling?is an artifact of our time; a fascinating perspective on American culture. - Meg Remy

Run, Remy, Run! Annabeth Penelope Gambrell

Ian Sullivan is being chased by a mobster and has to come up with $5,000 he doesn't have. His only hope is an estimate for a large house. Little does he know that the house belongs to a loup garou who just happens to be his mate. Ian's father and brother died because his brother gambled and owed money to a mobster. Now Sal Ferrara want to collect from him and, if he doesn't, he'll take Ian as his boy toy instead. Ian's only hope is getting a job from an estimate his father had outstanding for an 7,800 sq. ft. house. Little does Ian know that the house belongs to a Remy Clavier, a loup garou who meets Ian and knows he's found his mate. Now all Remy has to do is take care of Sal Ferrara and convince Ian, a human, to accept both him and his wolf.

The last thing Remy was expecting was a last minute Council conference that will call all Clan Chiefs from North America, and even Canada, to come together to discuss many issues for werebears. With only a week to prepare, Remy is nervous about leaving behind his clan, but knows that these meetings are very rare and it will only be for a week. So knowing a few days away from New Orleans won't hurt, he heads to Montana to see what the Council will be discussing in relation to the recent attacks by The Human Order. Arriving a few days before the conference, Remy runs into an old family enemy, immediately wishing he didn't run into the man. Charles is always out to prove himself, feeling himself better than others because of his family wealth. But once Remy meets another young lady he is quickly falling for, Remy is thinking that perhaps coming to this conference will work out in his favor in the end. But the last thing Remy could have every imagined is that the girl he is falling in love with is actually the daughter to his father's oldest enemy, Charles. Now Remy is doubting his love for Tara, wondering once her father finds out who he is that Tara will look down on him just like her father. Remy was not expecting this all to happen, but now he'll have to make the choice to either pursue his love or just focus on returning to New Orleans at the end of the week.

Max Remy Superspy 4: The Hollywood Mission RH/Disney

Some say that Saint-Rémy-de-Provence is the most beautiful village in all of France. That's especially true at Christmastime when the scent of baked gingerbread mingles with the fragrance of evergreen boughs and wafts deliciously through the village's quaint cobblestone lanes. It's hard to believe anything sinister could be waiting in any of its many charming streets and alleyways. But when American expat Maggie Newberry finds a pregnant, homeless teenager there she's thrust into a whirling maelstrom of enmity and treachery that quickly reveals in devastating clarity that not all families are created equal. In fact, some are so badly damaged nothing can fix them. Except possibly murder.

Everything a Runner Needs to Know--

And Then Some Metropolitan Museum of Art

Every sport has rules. Running is no exception. If you're curious, just visit the Web site of USA Track & Field, the sport's governing body, where you'll find detailed dictates on everything from disqualification to bib-number placement to the caliber of the starter's pistol. But what about the everyday rules of running? The unspoken ones that pertain to the lingo, behavior, and etiquette that every seasoned runner seems to know and every newbie needs to learn? Veteran runner Mark Remy and the editors of Runner's World magazine provide answers to these very questions and many more in The Runner's Rule Book. With 100+ rules that cover the basics of running, racing, track etiquette, and apparel and gear, including hilarious running commentary on running culture, The Runner's Rule Book will be the reference guide you'll turn to again and again for answers to your burning running questions.

Murder in St-Rémy JMS Books LLC

Someone has ransacked Remy's home and stolen his prized possession, a book of Raccoon Family stories. But anyone could have done the dirty deed. Was it a sneaky pack of alley cats out for a quick buck? Or maybe Big Al, the notorious king of the sewers? Or could it be the work of a mysterious masked figure? It's up to Remy and the rest of the Critter Crew to go undercover, track down the thief, and recover the book... or Remy's missing memories will be lost forever!

Between 1996 and 2000 the renowned architects Herzog & de Meuron built a new research centre together with a library, auditorium and cafeteria for the pharmaceutical company Roche in Basle. Situated on the outskirts of the town on the edge of the industrial area, the building was to include a closed section for laboratories yet should also be publicly accessible: the ideal starting point for an interdisciplinary solution. Artist Rémy Zaugg worked together with the architects developing the colours used. In particular he created a dramatic blue wall which separates public and restricted areas. This publication documents the entire project from its genesis to the completed construction, using texts, sketches, plans and photographs. More than a mere monograph, this book provides a fascinating glimpse into the creative collaboration occurring between architects and artists.
