A brief guide to the major cell and organ systems in the human body.

Z2 Comics

Climate change can lead to extremophilic endosymbiotic archaeal growth and neanderthalisation of the species. There is increase in endosymbiotic and colonic archaeal growth. The increase in colonic archaeal growth leads to breaching of the blood-gut barrier and archaeal endosymbiosis. The colonic archaea also generates RNA viroids which are converted to DNA viroids by colonic epithelial HERV reverse transcriptase and gets integrated into the human genome. The RNA and DNA viroids hybridise with the viroidal and bacterial population of the gut microbiome and virobiome DNA and RNA of the gut leading to generation of new emerging viruses. The RNA and DNA viroids and gut bacteria can also hybridise with human genomic sequences for immunity, metabolic regulation, growth factors, cell growth, cell death, neurotransmitters and HERV sequences of the colonial epithelial cell. The hybridization of archaeal RNA viroids with human genomic HERV sequences can generate retroviruses and new emerging viruses like Covid 19. This leads to generation of new bacteria, RNA and DNA viruses generating newer pandemics as well as the end of the homo sapien species and the world by global warming.

Now a major motion picture: Love, Simon, starring Nick Robinson and Katherine Langford! This special edition of Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens Agenda by award-winning author Becky Albertalli includes new Simon and Blue emails, a behind-the-scenes scrapbook from the Love, Simon movie set, and Becky Albertalli in conversation with fellow authors Adam Silvera and Angie Thomas. Sixteen-year-old and not-so-openly gay Simon Spier prefers to save his drama for the school musical. But when an email falls into the wrong hands, his secret is at risk of being thrust into the spotlight. Now Simon is actually being blackmailed: If he doesn't play wingman for class clown Martin, his sexual identity will become everyone's business. Worse, the privacy of Blue, the pen name of the boy he's been emailing with, will be jeopardized. With some messy dynamics emerging in his once tight-knit group of friends and his email correspondence with Blue growing more flirtatious every day, Simon's junior year has suddenly gotten all kinds of complicated. Now change-averse Simon has to find a way to step out of his comfort zone before he's pushed out-without alienating his friends, compromising himself, or fumbling a shot at happiness with the most confusing, adorable guy he's never met.

How many times have you asked the question "what am I doing here?" Grandpa's answer is interesting and thought provoking. Whether or not you agree with his answer, he gives us a lot to think about. He believes everyone needs to answer the question or else they will be manipulated by others as they go through life. Being manipulated by others is not a happy place. The train ride of life moves rapidly down the tracks and it seems to be moving so fast that you can't get off, if and when you realize you should. Answer his question and you can control which train to ride and get on and off the train ride when you want to, not when someone else tells you to.

From the award-winning author of Simon vs. the Homo Sapiens Agenda comes a funny, authentic novel about sisterhood, love, and identity. "Heart-fluttering, honest, and hilarious. I can't stop hugging this book." —Stephanie Perkins, New York Times bestselling author of Anna and the French Kiss "I have such a crush on this book! Not only is this one a must read, but it's a must re-read." —Julie Murphy, New York Times bestselling author of Dumplin' Seventeen-year-old Molly Peskin-Suso knows all about unrequited love. No matter how many times her twin sister, Cassie, tells her to woman up, Molly can't stomach the idea of rejection. So she's careful. Fat girls always have to be careful. Then a cute new girl enters Cassie's orbit, and for the first time ever, Molly's cynical twin is a lovesick mess. Meanwhile, Molly's totally not dying of loneliness—except for the part where she is. Luckily, Cassie's new girlfriend comes with a cute hipster-boy sidekick. If Molly can win him over, she'll get her first kiss and she'll get her twin back. There's only one problem: Molly's coworker, Reid. He's a chubby Tolkien superfan with a season pass to the Ren Faire, and there's absolutely no way Molly could fall for him. Right? Plus don't miss Yes No Maybe So, Becky Albertalli's and Aisha Saeed's heartwarming and hilarious new novel, coming in 2020!

The Body Map - Guide to the Homo Sapien Balzer + Bray Notebook/Journal for women.

Homosapien Gatekeeper Press

This series of books is a map of the human body with all of its intricate parts and systems. The body is a magnificent and complex machine. Looking at the lowest level inside a single cell, we see a whirlwind of activity going on twenty-four hours a day. We are completely unaware of the magnitude of this activity because it happens on a scale so small we cannot see it or in most cases we can not feel it. Yet, the human body is so fragile, if it were not for its incredible design, we would not exist! Each day we are discovering more about what goes on in our bodies. In volume I, we discuss some of the fascinating aspects of our awesome machine; the manufacturing of energy, how the body sends and receives messages, how the body maintains equilibrium, how the body repairs itself, what happens when the body is under attack from invaders, Epigenetics, DNA, why does cyanide kill so fast, and much more. Other volumes will address specific parts of the body at a micro and macro level.

The Pandemic Without an End Vol. 1 Tate Publishing & Enterprises Praise for How to Rap: "Filled with real tools and overflowing with inspiration, this comprehensive how-to manual examines the art and craft of rap. . . . Both newcomers to rap and more experienced listeners and artists can gain insights in the time-honored tradition of learning from the past, as told straight from the artists' mouths. . . . Highly recommended." --Library Journal Featuring an array of rap techniques never before explained or cataloged--such as flams, triplets, lazy tails, and vibrato--HOW TO RAP 2 is a must-read for MCs looking to take their craft to the next level, as well as anyone fascinated by rapping and its complexity. Filled with exclusive insights from hip-hop's most innovative artists, such as Tech N9ne, Crooked I, The Pharcyde, Das EFX, Del the Funky Homosapien, and Big Daddy Kane, this book takes you through the intricacies of rhythm, rhyme, and vocal delivery, delving into the art form in unprecedented detail. Paul Edwards is a writer and researcher of hip-hop. He is regarded as a leading expert on hip-hop and rap, and has been referred to as "the Aristotle of hip-hop poetics" by internationally acclaimed and award-winning poet Dana Gioia. He is the author of How to Rap. Gift of Gab, of the group Blackalicious, is noted as one of the most dexterous and versatile MCs of all time.

This book sets out to explain and justify the importance of the family as the central basis of human identity and of social values. Its first chapter provides a synthesis of ethological and sociobiological theories concerning the evolutionary basis of human nurturance. The second chapter considers the cultural dimensions of childhood socialization. On the basis of the first two chapters, the second half of the book discusses the important though threatened functions of the family in modern society.
