Accelerated Learning: Save Your Time and Increase Your Concentration for a Lifetime (A Unique and Revolutionary Guide to Improve Your Learning Techniques) McGraw Hill Professional Speed in acquiring the knowledge and skills to perform tasks is crucial. Yet, it still ordinarily takes many years to achieve high proficiency in countless jobs and professions, in government, business, industry, and throughout the private sector. There would be great advantages if regimens of training could be established that could accelerate the achievement of high levels of proficiency. This book discusses the construct of 'accelerated learning.' It includes a review of the research literature on learning acquisition and retention, focus on establishing what works, and why. This includes several demonstrations of accelerated learning, with specific ideas, plans and roadmaps for doing so. The impetus for the book was a tasking from the Defense Science and Technology Advisory Group, which is the top level Science and Technology policy-making panel in the Department of Defense. However, the book uses both military and non-military exemplar case studies. It is likely that methods for acceleration will leverage technologies and capabilities including virtual training, cross-training, training across strategic and tactical levels, and training for resilience and adaptivity. This volume provides a wealth of information and guidance for those interested in the concept or phenomenon of "accelerating learning"— in education, training, psychology, academia in general, government, military, or industry.

Accelerated learning programs have increased dramatically and gained widespread attention in adult higher education. They have also received criticism regarding their value and potential impact on the quality of learning in colleges and universities. This volume of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education is the first major publication that addresses the current practice and research of accelerated learning formats in higher education. The contributors to this volume explore the scope and substance of accelerated learning as it is practiced in colleges and universities. Practitioner guidelines and insights are offered for best practices in program and course design, learning strategies, and assessment approaches, as well as the integration of distance learning and service-learning into accelerated learning programs. To aid in examining broader questions of impact and outcome, several chapters discuss research from a variety of contexts, with both descriptive and comparative findings. This volume also provides a critical perspective and future consideration of strategies and roles for accelerated learning as a positive force in higher education. It will aid both practitioners and researchers by providing informative ideas and practices from leaders and educators who have administered, taught, and studied this innovative learning format. This is the 97th volume of New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education, a quarterly report published by Jossey-Bass.

How Tutoring Works

Corwin Press

Accelerated learning is a learning format that allows students to complete courses in a shorter period compared to a traditional semester. Accelerated learning is a multi-dimensional approach to learning where students can control the speed and method in which they are instructed. What you'll discover in this book:

- How the brain receives and processes information and how you can tap into it to 3x your learning speed
- How to determine your preferred learning style and how smart you really are
- The secret six-step plan to accelerated learning
- How to look at mistakes to speed up your learning process
- How to fine-tune your memory to remember new knowledge without effort
- How to mentally cement complex information to make them accessible at all times

Many people believe that knowledge is the key to success, actually, knowledge is just the final result of a brain process called learning. What is actually going to make you incredibly successful is not knowledge, it is learning. Mastering the art of learning will allow you to gain knowledge quicker and more efficiently, will make you able to remember things for a long time and will make you reach success much more easily.

tutoring strategies that spark meaningful, accelerated learning. Tutoring is much more than telling students information. Effective tutoring begins with the strong and caring relationship a tutor establishes with a learner to build trust, fuel motivation, and drive critical learning. How Tutoring Works distills the complexity of strategic moves effective tutors make to build students' confidence and competence. Harnessing decades of Visible Learning® research, this easy to read, eye-opening guide details the six essential components of any effective tutoring intervention—establishing a relationship and credibility, addressing student confidence and challenges, setting shared goals, helping a student learn how to learn, teaching and learning content, and establishing a habit of deliberate practice. Indispensable for any educator who intervenes with students, this rich resource includes: Examples of impactful tutoring conversations, including what to say and what not to say when building a relationship with a learner. Specific approaches to use when establishing credibility, addressing challenges to learning, leveraging the relevance of knowledge, setting goals, and ensuring practice. Learning strategies, with effect size, for teaching and learning content, including specific strategies for improving reading, writing, and mathematics. Tips and tools for helping students develop powerful cognitive, metacognitive, and affective study skills. Resources and advice for establishing an effective and transformational tutoring program. Done well, tutoring can repair a student's damaged relationship to learning, address unrealized potential, and alter the course of a young person's life. A strong and nurturing relationship between tutor and learner is key.

The Art of Accelerated Learning Powerful Playful Learning

The Accelerated Trainer opens with this premise: both the learner and the trainer need to overcome their hang-ups, and abandon any psychological baggage before they start. From there, the author goes on to cover the entire process, from planning and preparation, through anticipation and delivery, to action-planning and follow up. The book is careful to practice what it preaches: There are pictures and Mind Maps® for those who are very visual; analogies and anecdotes for the intrapersonal, as well as a simple seven phase structure and plenty of powerful models if you like things structured and logical. All are designed to help you learn and start applying accelerated training techniques in as short a time as possible, whatever the background of the people with whom you may be working.

That's why this book has focused on rebounding, and taking the opportunity to create an even better schooling system, one that serves even more students, and focuses more on what matters most." "Let's agree not to reduce the impact that our expectations have on students' learning. What if we talk about learning leaps instead of learning loss? What if we identify where students are in their learning and identify critical content that they must learn now to accelerate their performance in the future? And what if we raise our expectations for students rather than lower them?" - Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Dominique Smith, and John Hattie

Learning Power in Practice
David Craft

'This book provides a variety of ideas for use in the classroom, based on practical applications of the conceptual understanding of learning power... ...[It] tells the reader about the "Effective Lifelong Learning Inventory" research programme (ELLI) and uses practical examples of how it can work in actual classes to explain its effectiveness. Its value for practitioners working with children with SEN appears to be in the way it challenges them to look at themselves as learners - also how they can support the children they work with to become more effective learners' - Special Needs Coordinator's File

'This is not a gimmicky approach... The approach here fosters deeper understanding for both the teacher and learner of exactly what the process involves... It contains much to interest schoolteachers, senior managers and those involved with learners of any age' - ESCalate

Contains Learning Power flash cards! What kind of learner are you? How can you become a better learner? This book puts the findings of the well known Effective Lifelong Learning Inventory (ELLI) research programme into the practical context of the classroom, helping you to find answers to these questions. The book offers many suggestions for practical ways to improve the learning power of all the children in your class. It looks at: " learning power - what it is and how it can be achieved " creating the right classroom environment for powerful learning " how learning power works in the primary and secondary school classroom " how animal metaphors can be used with children to explain concepts. This is an exciting read for anyone interested in how children learn, and how we can help them to learn more effectively. It fits in very well with the debate around such concepts as accelerated learning, thinking skills and learning styles.

The Accelerated Learning Handbook: A Creative Guide to Designing and Delivering Faster, More Effective Training Programs Wrying Ltd

Accelerated learning by Jonathan Wilkens is a book created out of the idea that people can learn and grasp at a much faster rate. Over the centuries, Accelerated Learning has gone by different names. Its idea originally came out of the concept of Scientology which was then developed between the years of 1960, 1970 by Dr. Giogy Lozanov into Suggestopedia or Reservtopedia like some would call it. As Shakespeare is to literature, Dr. Giogy Lozanov is to Accelerated Learning. He is considered the father of Accelerated Learning. His Suggestopedia or Reservopedia concept is a technique that revolutionizes teaching and facilitates learning. And in the 20th century, Suggestopedia was rebirth into what we now call Accelerated Learning today. Accelerated Learning is something we should all indulge in and practice in our everyday activities, in the lives of our children, and our workplace - most especially in our children's lives. Imagine if your ability to think critically, systemically and innovatively increases. Wouldn't that be a great achievement? If processed right into your lives, what would take months for us to learn and grasp would take weeks, and what would take weeks would take days. You would be more adept in the learning or teaching field. This book is designed to meet all the requirements of our learning programs in our learning environments, and to educate the facilitators and learners alike, so that the learning process is both deepened and accelerated. Learners will thereby be able to retain more by applying Accelerated Learning into their lives. And the facilitating is less about delivering content and more about encouraging discovery, reflection, and learning. This book combines the old, the new and the likely helpful future ideas on Accelerated Learning as they have become available. So, you wouldn't be wrong if you say this book has all you need to know, all the ready-to-go information on accelerated learning that should allow you - if followed - to learn at a much faster rate. This book goes into... Its history, where it was gotten from, who it was gotten from, out of the idea it was gotten. Provides insight into everything you need to know about Accelerated Learning, its benefits, its designs, how to maximize your potential - your memory capacity from a 128 megabyte to possibly a gigabyte, and also the way you can facilitate in your lives, be it in schools, workplaces or you'd lifestyle in general. For those who facilitate learning, this is a road map for them, into the new world where you can grasp things as quickly as possible without wasting the time you would normally have. 10 basic elements of Accelerated Learning This book teaches on the types of Acceleration strategies that could be designed to allow progress through the core contents of a school program at a rate more closely aligned with a student's ability and interests, rather than being restricted by artificially imposed steps of progression. It will be of great help to you if you learn about it, its many benefits, how to maximize your potential, how to improve your memory and the methods, conditions and the speed techniques to acquire instant speed learning. This book provides you with all of it.
