Transformations in Human Communication Trafford Publishing
 The life of Waite Long is mostly seen as a recluse person who is promoting fear for those around him. This kind of life is creating many emotions with questions and also disbelief. Lifestyle becomes fear, leaving no answers. At least it seemed. The response of others living in the same neighborhood brings gossip and fear. Nothing is related to time, and so the daily life becomes a life of questions with many challenges. Then the answers come! When we allow changes then we know love conquers all with many surprises. The time it takes in changing for the good is like conquering mountains! It's very exhilarating and stimulating. Waite's life was like an open investigation full of excitement - but mostly the feeling of being alone. There are a lot of crossroads in life and many storms for some people, both physically and mentally. Plus the many times of loneliness for each of us. We all need to learn. Not all of life is negative, although being able to rest in loneliness, feeling peaceful among strife or danger or loving in spite of hatred or misconception. Puzzles become roadmaps! Trails are to climb and also come down! Everything is there to conquer and to use patience. Challenge promotes growth. We have to remember it's only when the end comes that we can relax. Getting there requires adjustments - surprises - endurance - even when questions keep coming. We can conquer all, then the life becomes triumphant and happiness and the strength to go on - and on to even better things! We feel better inside in spite of the ways of others. Please look at things in life kindly, how it affects others and how it makes others react. That is my wish and purpose.

This is one of the most significant military books of the twentieth century. By an outstanding soldier of independent mind, it pushed forward the evolution of land warfare and was directly responsible for German armoured supremacy in the early years of the Second World War. Published in 1937, the result of 15 years of careful study since his days on the German General Staff in the First World War, Guderian's book argued, quite clearly, how vital the proper use of tanks and supporting armoured vehicles would be in the conduct of a future war. When that war came, just two years later, he proved it, leading his Panzers with distinction in the Polish, French and Russian campaigns. Panzer warfare had come of age, exactly as he had forecast. This first English translation of Heinz Guderian's classic book - used as a textbook by Panzer officers in the war - has an introduction and extensive background notes by the modern English historian Paul Harris.

Globalization has created an interconnected world, but has not diminished violence and militarism. The Economics of Killing describes how the power of global elites, entrenched under globalization, has created a deadly cycle of violence. In this groundbreaking work, Vijay Mehta shows how attempts at peaceful national development are routinely blocked by Western powers. He centers the 2008 financial crisis in US attempts to block China's model of development. He shows how Europe and the US conspire with regional dictators to prevent countries from developing advanced industries, and how this system has fed terrorism. Mehta argues that a different world is possible, based on policies of disarmament, demilitarization, and sustainable development. This original and thought-provoking book will be of great interest to anyone concerned about the consequences of endless war fueled by the West.

Neither an academic tome nor a prescriptive 'how to' guide, The Theory and Practice of Online Learning is an illuminating collection of essays by practitioners and scholars active in the complex field of distance education. Distance education has evolved significantly in its 150 years of existence. For most of this time, it was an individual pursuit defined by infrequent postal communication. But recently, three more developmental generations have emerged, supported by television and radio, teleconferencing, and computer conferencing. The early 21st century has produced a fifth generation, based on autonomous agents and intelligent, database-assisted learning, that has been referred to as Web 2.0. The second edition of "The Theory and Practice of Online Learning" features updates in each chapter, plus four new chapters on current distance education issues such as connectivism and social software innovations.
