From the outset, the NOPHN recognized the political expediency of forming coalitions with other health professionals and laypeople and included these other individuals as members. A Historical Perspective on Policy, Politics, and Nursing ... Moreover, policy and politics determines nursing itself - past, present and future. It profoundly shapes the practice and workplaces of nurses at local, regional, national and global levels (Salvage & White in press). Most nurses say they just want to get on with their job, and not worry about the macro-level concerns of policy and politics. Nursing leadership and health policy: everybody's business ... Nursing is the largest component of the health workforce everywhere, but the profession has not yet realized its 'potential to profoundly influence policy and politics on a global scale' even though it is the 'moral and professional obligation of nurses to be engaged in legislation that impacts their patients' (Rakow 2016).
