W. D. Gann's justly famous work on the trading of commodities. "I am writing this book to supply a universal demand: and give rules that will forecast the trend of commodities. Conditions have changed rapidly during the last few years and will change more rapidly after this great war is over than ever before in history. Men will return to the soil of Mother Nature to make a living. Investors and speculators will have to look for new ways to make money in the future and will find it more difficult in the stock market; therefore, the necessities of life, the basic commodities, will offer greater opportunities than investments in stocks and bonds, providing the trader knows the rules to follow. "My object is to write something that will be helpful to people in trade lines and to those who have long years of experience in the commodity market, as well as the inexperienced trader who wants knowledge and needs to learn the ways to start right, and to protect his capital and make profits. Life affords no greater pleasure than that of helping others who are trying to help themselves. "I am going to give the best of my forty years of experience in this book, and I hope to show others the way to help themselves and follow mathematical rules in the commodity market, which will result in profits. I do not believe in gambling or reckless speculation, but am firmly convinced, after years of experience, that if traders will follow rules and trade on definite indications, that speculation can be made a profitable profession. Trading in commodities is not a gambling business, as some people think, but a practical, safe business when conducted on business principles. "I offer this book to the public with a sincere conviction that if they put in the time studying, they will derive great benefits."

Most people buy a stock because they hope it will go up and they will make profits. They buy on tips, or what someone else thinks, without any concrete knowledge of their own that the stock will advance. Thus they entered the market wrong and did not recognize this mistake or attempt to correct it until too late. Finally they sell because they fear the stock will go lower and often they sell out near low levels, getting out at the wrong time, making two mistakes, getting in the market at the wrong time and getting out at the wrong time. One mistake could have been prevented: they could have gotten out right after getting in wrong. They do not realize that operating in Stocks and Commodities is a business or a profession, the same as engineering or the medical profession.

Observations on W. D. Gann Vol. 1 Lulu.com

For those traders who have read Gann's books or studied his Trading Courses the name of W.D. Gann and his accomplishments are well known. For the others, a brief outline of his record should prove interesting. Gann is considered to be one of the most successful commodity traders in history. In a career that spanned over 50 years, he is supposed to have taken 50 million dollars out of the stock and commodity markets. The accuracy of these figures cannot be verified but it is known that Mr. Gann lived quite well for his time. There were several magazine and newspaper articles that described his accomplishments. One observer watched Gann make 286 stock transactions during the month of October 1909. Of those trades, 264 or 92% were profitable. On another occasion, he turned a $130 account into $12,000 in less than a month. He had the ability to call a market turn within one day and highs and lows to an eighth of a point. All of these claims are a matter of public record. Gann's trading philosophy can be described in his own words: Through the law of vibration every stock and commodity in the marketplace moves in its own distinctive sphere of activities, as to intensity, volume and direction; all the essential qualities of its evolution is characterized in its own rate of vibration. Stocks and commodities, like atoms, are really centers of energies, therefore they are controlled mathematically. They create their own field of action and power; power to attract and repel, which explains why certain stocks and commodities at times lead the market and turn dead at other times. Thus to speculate scientifically it is absolutely necessary to obey natural law. Vibration is fundamental; nothing is exempt from this law; it is universal, therefore applicable to every class of phenomena on the globe. Thus, I affirm, every class of phenomena, whether in nature or in the market, must be subject to the universal laws of causation, harmony and vibration. The purpose of this book is to show you what can be done forecasting the markets via Gann methods through the use of the unique Ganntrader 3.0 program produced by Peter Pich. Gann discovered some valuable but often unbelievable laws that govern the markets. The primary purpose of Ganntrader is to allow you an efficient way to test Gann's discoveries in order to confidently integrate them into your own trading system. The following will go through actual software program setup so you understand the basics of the entire process.

It appears to be a fact that Mr. W. D. Gann has developed an entirely new idea as to the principles governing market movements. He bases his operations upon certain natural laws which, though existing since the world began, have only in recent years been subjected to the will of man and added to the list of so-called modern discoveries. We have asked Mr. Gann for an outline of his work, and have secured some remarkable evidence as to the results obtained there from. W. D. As you know, W.D. Gann was a legendary trader. Some say he amassed a fortune in the the markets. He died in 1955. He wrote several important books on trading as well as a commodity trading course and a stock market trading course. He charged $3000 to $5000 for the trading courses which included 6 months of personal instruction by phone. The books and courses were written in veiled language which is almost impossible to understand by the average person. I have found many successful traders used the techniques of W.D. Gann. Due to the overwhelming interest in the W.D. Gann trading techniques, I created the Gann Masters Trading Course to help traders become successful. The course was created in combination with asking large traders how they used the techniques of W.D. Gann. This was put together in an easy-to-understand course designed for the average person. During my time studying Gann, I was fortunate to come across an e-book published by the Gann Study Group entitled, W.D. Gann on the Law of Vibration. In this e-book is where I first read a little known Gann article from 1919. In this article, Gann makes some predictions about the German Kaiser, Wilhelm Hohenzollern, and provides some details as to how he made his predictions. Continued study and work on the contents of the article led to the publication of my first book entitled, W.D. Gann: Divination By Mathematics. In this book, I wrote a chapter on periodicity, which was personally for me, one of my favorites in the book. In that chapter I was able to show how Gann may have derived key periods in the life of the German Kaiser, Wilhelm Hohenzollern. Interestingly, during my continued research, I found another example in Gann's work that matched the same procedure Gann may have used to derive some of the key periods in the 1919 article. Thus, one of the main goals of this small booklet is to simply share what I found. It has always been my intention to publish additional books to get some of the ideas that I have been contemplating out in the open, but I didn't have enough information on a particular topic to fill a three hundred, two hundred, or even a one hundred page book. With this in mind, I realized that I could publish small booklets in a series of volumes, each focusing on a different topic to achieve my goal. So this is what you will find in this publication, a small booklet on the topic of periodicity, which is the first volume in a series of volumes on observations I have made with respect to Gann's work. It is my hope that the reader will find something valuable within these pages to further their own research and study.

45 Years In Wall Street CreateSpace

This is the story of an investment swindle from one hundred years ago. William Delbert Gann was a stockbroker and confidence trickster who died in Brooklyn in 1955. I have not been able to find any evidence that he ever traded for his own profit. In his promotional literature he claimed that he was not a broker and that he only looked after the interests of his private clients, but the New York Times says otherwise. He was highly intelligent and when his book The Tunnel Thru The Air was published in 1927, he had, as you will see, some knowledge about the Phoenicians and the Greeks and about the technique of building wooden ships. He was also well established in his own business in Wall Street. All these things are relevant. To understand the works of this man one must get behind his eyes and see into his soul. He claimed to be a scientist, but his intelligence was for business and for literature. He had an astonishing ability to invent new metaphors for commonplace things. Figures of speech such as metaphors, similes and synonyms are the essence of poetry, and Mr. Gann seemed to have a liking for poetry, as was shown in one of his books by many excerpts from the works of American poets. However, the poems in the book also contained coded references to the time at which the price of a security can alter. Because such periods were not exclusively for strictly alternating tops and bottoms they cannot be identified by conventional cycle discovery methods. Part of the task of this book is to unravel these literary devices and show what he did mean. His skill at obfuscation was very great, yet within his writing he did reveal one method of value - nothing that will make you one thousand per cent profit in one month, as a well known magazine article dishonestly claimed for him, but just one method of utility. I promise you that you will puzzle over his books and 'courses' and will struggle to see anything of value. It is because all his works used metaphors which cannot be taken literally. He did not use the motion of the planets and neither did he plot one-by-one charts for himself. These last were much touted methods of his. He claimed that other people had said of him that "This man can make a fortune from reading the ticker tape alone." However, I have not been able to find any proof that he ever indulged in proprietary trading. The way he disguised the real nature of his alleged trading methods is extraordinary. He is as obscure as James Joyce and as imaginative. How he did it will be exposed in full. SOME REVIEW This man has solved all the enigmas which William Gann posed - the periodic table, the 'cycles' which he used, the 50% rule and his 'use' of astrology. But, as he himself says, "Do not forget the sub-title of this book - An Account of a Stock Market Scam. The ability to fully understand William Gann will not make one rich." F. M. Snodgrass in The Snodgrass Papers Just brilliant! What other book on finance would mention J. B. Priestly, James Joyce, The Maltese Falcon, James Stewart, Oscar Wilde, Thomas Edison, H. G. Wells, Eddington and Einstein? And that is just for starters and all of it is relevant. William Bloggs Get it at once. It is the only book on finance that you will need. It is about finance and it is about life. Mustafa Kamel His thought experiment on pensions is worth fifty times the price of the book. Kofe N. Kroke
