Selama ko-ass, aku harus menghadapi macam-macam tingkah pasien. Dari mulai pemarah, pemalu, periang, penggerutu, mirip cerita Smurf-lah. Aku pernah dapet pasien preman, tiap mau aku suntik pantatnya dia pasti mengancam, "Awat kalo sakit ya Dok! Kutonjok kau!". Ada juga pasien yang hobi banget menjodoh-jodohkan anaknya sendiri, "Dokter, ini anak saya mau kenalan, ini namanya Sari. Anak saya cantik ya Dok, seumuran Dokter lagi! Dulu dia laki-laki, sekarang udah perempuan kok Dok." Gimana aku gak stress? "KOAAAAS!!!! PASIEN BARUUU!" teriak seorang suster. "Iya tau," kataku sedikit ngedumel. "Pasien apa, Sus?" "Minum racun serangga," jawab suster itu. Lalu aku memperhatikan wajah lemah pasien yang masih setengah sadar itu. "Heh! Nih kan cewek, kok masuk ke bangsal cowok?" tanyaku heran sambil memperhatikan kembali pasien di atas brangkar. "Eemmm," tiba-tiba suster itu membisikkan sesuatu ke telingaku, "pasiennya waria. Banci!" Ferdiriva Hamzah bukanlah calon dokter lagi, melainkan udah dokter beneran. Dalam buku Cado-Cado : Catatan Dodol Calon Dokter, kamu akan menyimak 14 pengalaman lucu Riva sewaktu menjalani koass atau pendidikan lanjut mahasiswa kedokteran dulu. Dari mulai dijebloskan ke ruangan penuh orang sakit jiwa sampai gemeteran merawat pasien waria. -Bukune-

HOW CHINA'S MOST CELEBRATED VIOLIN
PRODIGY BECAME AN ENEMY OF STATE.

The King of Violins is the heartbreaking story of China's most celebrated violin prodigy, Ma Sicong, who composed his first concerto at the age of 12. During his career, this gentle, dignified man composed 57 of the world's best-known symphonies and concertos and performed in front of hundreds of sold-out audiences across the globe.

Chairman Mao Zedong declared Ma Sicong "a national treasure" and nicknamed him The King of Violins. Soon, Chairman Mao's brutal Cultural Revolution distorted the truth of Ma's life and work. He is forced to wear a dunce cap, and is publicly humiliated and physically abused by cadres of Red Guards as "a vile product of bourgeois thinking." Ma and his family make a breath-taking escape in the darkness to America. After Chairman Mao died in 1976, the real circumstances of Ma's poignant, bittersweet life were buried in the pages of history by an embarrassed Chinese government. Eleven years later, Ma died at the age of 76 in Philadelphia. The King of Violins, written in cooperation with all of Ma's remaining family members, and is the first politically balanced life story about this generous, conflicted musical genius.

The world is named Dyathan, a place where gods and men are created equal. Cado, is the first installment of the series Rainfall. Cado Highborn, the main protagonist, is a male Agaree (a race created by the god Lutheran, many years before his brother Verin slayed him and decimated the old Agaree realm). Cado is a respected and well accomplished individual within the empire of Diecarthia. The Diecarthian Empire is the great civilisation of man, one in which the Agaree people are the superior race. Cado is well known for his conquests against the remnants of Verin's legion of demons, who are all but vanquished, forced to retreat to their homeland to the east. A new threat has risen in the east, Verin annihilated by the one called Adriel. With this new threat facing the empire, the seraph council holds a meeting to debate what shall be done. Cado being of the most prestigious of them all declares that war must be held to expand the empires territory. He recommends conquering the Rotari race, a race located in the north that was once loyal to Verin. The very suggestion is outrageous to many, as war with the Rotari could create instability and rebellion with the local thrall populace. Cado, however, cares little for this as his motives go deeper and far more disturbing than what is projected. Fearing Cado more than the threat to the east the council has decided, and war is declared.

Sandra Martini thought she had it all, a storybook marriage, two loving children, a meaningful career in healthcare, and lots of corporate expense account goodies. But, all hell broke loose when husband Victor met Franklin Ryman, a wealthy, "tarnished" member of Wall Street's dark-side dealmakers, known as "the lunatic fringe." The morally bankrupt Ryman guaranteed Victor no experience was necessary to become a Wall Street zillionaire, other than "Follow the Leader." Smitten with the notion of becoming filthy rich at the age of 37, Victor waved goodbye to his carefully-cultivated career on Madison Avenue to launch a questionable IPO (Initial Public Offering) with Ryman. Reluctantly, Sandra agreed to join "the love of her life" on a breath-taking roller-coaster though a seamy side of Wall Street that professional dealmakers deny exists. A world where the only color that matters is green. When the roller coaster stops, Victor and Sandra are financially and morally bankrupt, their marriage is in shambles, and Victor contemplates a bizarre version of suicide to make amends.

Newbery Honor Book Coretta Scott King

Author Honor Book Coretta Scott King

Illustrator Honor Book Using original slave auction and plantation estate documents, Ashley Bryan offers a moving and powerful picture book that contrasts the monetary value of a person with the priceless value of life experiences and dreams that a slave owner could never take away. Imagine being looked up and down and being valued as less than chair. Less than an ox. Less than a dress. Maybe about the same as...a lantern. This gentle yet deeply powerful way goes to the heart of how a slave is given a monetary value by the slave owner, tempering this with the one thing that can't be bought or sold: dreams. Inspired by the actual will of a plantation owner that lists the worth of each and every one of his "workers," the author has created collages around that document, and others like it. Through fierce paintings and expansive poetry, he imagines and interprets each person's life on the plantation, as well as the life their owner knew nothing about—their dreams and pride in knowing that they were worth far more than an overseer or madam ever would guess. Visually epic, and never before done, this stunning picture book is unlike anything you've seen.

God gives a humble, ordinary man named Arthur Mercado a bunch of tests: 51 heart procedures, 36 radiation treatments, two outer-body-experiences, and stage four Parkinson's, among others. Along the way, Arthur raises his daughter Mindy as a single parent and has four loving grandkids who nickname him "Papa Cado." Arthur passes every test with a smile and a wink. He knows God will never give him more tests than he can handle. I had the honor of knowing Arthur, who passed recently at 72, peacefully, among family and friends. Fortunately, he left a legacy for all of us. Arthur's way of looking at life was insightful, honest, and rift with a one of a kind wit. His unassuming little pocket book is designed to carry with you every day. As Arthur's dear friend, Dr. Ozzie Guntag said, "Papa Cado's Book of Wisdom will put a smile on your face, and make all your little aches and pains go away."

The Pataphysician's Library is a study of aspects of 1890s French literature, with specific reference to the traditions of Symbolism and Decadence. Its main focus is Alfred Jarry, who has proved, perhaps surprisingly, to be one of the more durable fin-de-siècle authors. The originality of this study lies in its use of the enigmatic list of books termed the livres pairs, which appears in Jarry's 1898 novel Gestes et Opinions du docteur Faustroll, pataphysicien, his best-known prose work. The greatest interest of the livres pairs lies in a group of works by Jarry's friends and contemporaries, primarily Leon Bloy, Georges Darien, Gustave Kahn, Catulle Mendès, Josephin Madan, Rachilde, and Henri de Regnier. Several of these authors feature as the lords of islands visited by the pataphysician Dr Faustroll in his curious voyage around Paris. In conjunction with Jarry's own works, the contemporary livres pairs serve to illustrate the vibrant and experimental atmosphere in which these authors worked.
