When some Indo-Europeans left Central Asia and settled in other parts of Asia and Europe, their horses helped them win their battles. The first appearance of the horse in Greece comes with the arrival of the Indo-Europeans around 2100 BC. Where do horses come from? - Quatr.us Study Guides Our young horses get about 2-3 pounds of grain daily. The grain costs about $12 for a 50-pound bag. So the grain is $0.24 per pound. At 2-3 pounds daily, that is 48 to 72 cents. So while a young horse could be eating 72 cents of grain daily, their total body weight might be half of a full grown horse, so they might only be eating half the hay.
