Brainerd Kellogg (August 15, 1834 - January 9, 1920) was born in Champlain, New York. He was a Tutor (1860-1861) and Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature (1861-1868) at Middlebury College in Vermont, United States. From 1868 to 1907 he was professor at the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He published a number of influential education books, some of which are available on Project Gutenberg. Kellogg was the author of Rhetoric; History of the English Language. With Alonzo Reed, he jointly authored Graded Lessons in English; Higher Lessons in English; A One Book Course. He authored a variety of textbooks on English writing and literature, including a series on the works of William Shakespeare. Most methods of diagramming in pedagogy are based on the work of Alonzo Reed and Brainerd Kellogg in their book Higher Lessons in English, first published in 1877, though the method has been updated with recent understanding of grammar. Reed and Kellogg were preceded, and their work probably informed, by W. S. Clark, who published his "balloon" method of depicting grammar in his 1847 book A Practical Grammar: In Which Words, Phrases & Sentences are Classified According to Their Offices and Their Various Relationships to Each Another. Some schoolteachers continue to use the Reed-Kellogg system in teaching grammar, but others have discouraged it in favor of more modern tree diagrams.

The aim of this work is to make the science of the language, of which all the essentials are thoroughly presented, tributary to the art of expression. Every principle unfolded in the "Hints," and every idiom, common construction, and form, learned by the pupil in the analysis and parsing of the wide range of sentences given, is fixed in memory and, above all, in practice by varied and exhaustive drill in composition. The pupil is constantly stimulated to the attractive labor of composing sentences, arranging and rearranging their parts, contracting, expanding, punctuating, and criticizing them -- the analysis furnishing him materials for the synthesis, and the synthesis supplementing the analysis. Even if the study of grammar were only to lodge in the memory the facts and principles of the language, we contend that this could be done only by work and composition -- this, and this only, can make them permanent possessions. The first half of the book is devoted to "The Sentence and the Parts of Speech;" the next thirty pages to "Parts of Speech Subdivided;" the next seventy to "Modifications of the Parts of Speech;" and the remaining thirty to composition. - Preface

This book offers a comprehensive, self-contained introduction to one of the oldest known recorded languages—Hieroglyphic Egyptian. Unlike other approaches, it is geared toward learning to read one of the masterpieces of Middle Egyptian literature, the story "Shipwrecked Sailor," written around 2200 bce. The text's eighteen lessons—organized around such topics as the body, flora, fauna, titles, administration, religion, sexuality, and warfare—cover all the basic grammar and syntax of Middle Egyptian. The book includes exercises for each chapter, sign lists, Egyptian/English and English/Egyptian dictionaries defining all the words and phrases used in the lessons, and a new edition of the tale "Shipwrecked Sailor" with facing commentary. Although the overall approach is literary, Hieroglyphic Egyptian can also be used as an introduction to reading other material, such as biographical inscriptions, religious texts, historical annals, and mathematical or medical papyri. The text is suitable for classroom use, as well as for those who want to learn independently.

DESCRIPTION - (ANALYSIS) Whosoever wants to learn English, he/she has to learn English Grammar. Grammar teaches how to read, write and speak English correctly. Grammar is divided into five important parts: 1. : Orthography 2. : Etymology 3. : Syntax 4. : Punctuation 5. : Prosody A learner of English Grammar is taught about alphabet 26 letters - Capital and Small letters separately - how to read , how to write and how to speak ( pronounce ) these letters nicely with ease. Then with the joining of one letter to another letter or letters they are taught how to form words step by step. Here also they are taught the method or art how to spell well these letters and how to learn nicely to read, write and speak these words with ease. At the third stage of teaching they are taught how to make sentence with the help of subject, verb, object and moreover with the complements, if any. For the students of senior classes they have to learn more about important chapters of Grammar so that they can be able to write the answers of long type questions, essays, letters etc. Over and above some grammar portions are also prescribed in the syllabus/prospectus. As these portions are very important ones and tough also, the students have to pay proper attention to the rules and get them by heart. These chapters are very important in English grammar: 1. : Kinds of sentence 2. : Parts Of Speech 3. : Tense 4. : Narration - Direct and Indirect Speech 5. : Transformation 6. : Analysis ( Clauses ) 7. : Synthesis 8. : Punctuation Analysis is a very important chapter of English Grammar. Analysis means to analyze a complex sentence mainly into two parts - 1 - Principal Clause and 2 - Subordinate Clause with its exact kind i.e. whether it is a Noun Clause or an Adjective Clause or an Adverb Clause. In this chapter the author has made an attempt in a very simple language with very suitable examples as to how students can understand which part of the sentence is a Principal Clause and which part is a Subordinate Noun Clause or Subordinate Adjective Clause or Subordinate Adverb Clause and why ? Students after learning the lesson can easily pick out the clauses from the complex sentence comprising of Principal Clause and Subordinate Noun Clause or Subordinate Adjective Clause or Subordinate Adverb Clause but with appropriate reasons under the rules as stated in the booklet of Analysis - A part of English Grammar. Do hope students and the boys desirous of learning English can be able to learn this important chapter within a few hours and can mastery over the subject by getting by heart all the relevant rules and practising to pick out clauses and naming them correctly with reasons. Over and above those people who couldn't learn it in their students' life can also get a golden opportunity of learning this important chapter any time while in leisure particularly on tour waiting for bus, train or flight or when they are in leisure in their houses or in their offices.
