According to Michael Barkun, many white supremacist groups of the radical right are deeply committed to the distinctive but little-recognized religious position known as Christian Identity. In Religion and the Racist Right (1994), Barkun provided the first sustained exploration of the ideological and organizational development of the Christian Identity movement. In a new chapter written for the revised edition, he traces the role of Christian Identity figures in the dramatic events of the first half of the 1990s, from the Oklahoma City bombing and the rise of the militia movement to the Freemen standoff in Montana. He also explores the government's evolving response to these challenges to the legitimacy of the state. Michael Barkun is professor of political science in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University. He is author of several books, including

 The spiritual dimension of existence has always been a part of people's lives. Religion serves this dimension, in which people are confronted with the question of what is holy and what is ultimately important. In Towards Religious Identity Tjeu van Knippenberg concentrates on spiritual guidance in the context of the Christian faith. A number of questions arise here. What is the spiritual? Can what we call spiritual, be compared with what has been said about it in the course of the centuries? Is there a relationship between personal experiences that go beyond direct experiences and what is taught in the Christian church about the spiritual? Can this be distinguished within the complex psychological processes that take place within a person? Just how personal and private is it?

Where can it be found? What is its connection with the daily course of life? Is it of importance in one's own development and in the development of society? Where can one learn about it? How does one deal with it? Are there people equipped to guide others from this perspective? Towards Religious Identity offers a framework that can contribute to people's competence in discovering the meaning of the personal life story from a spiritual perspective. M.P.J. van

Does the letter to the Hebrews display Jewish or Christian identity? Ole Jakob Filtvedt shows that it takes up a traditional Jewish category, namely membership in God's people, and proposes it for its audience as a collective identity but also significantly reshapes that category in light of belief in Jesus. This book takes readers into the Mexican-majority neighborhoods of Santa Ana, California, a city once dubbed the hardest place to live in the U.S. Jonathan E. Calvillo explores the challenges faced by Mexican immigrants in this working-class city, highlighting how faith practices are central to social interactions and community building. How does faith shape residents' sense of ethnic identity? Drawing on five years of participant observation and in-depth interviews, The Saints of Santa Ana offers a rich portrait of a fascinating American community.

Desiring God SPCK

It is easy to define our identity by our family, career, friends, hobbies, or nationality. We often determine our identity by our actions, words, or reputation. No matter how we define ourselves, our identity in Christ remains the same. He has rescued us from sin, delivered us from darkness, and redeemed us from shame. He has called us His children, adopted us, and given us citizenship in His Kingdom. In Christ, we are saved, sealed, forgiven, chosen, blessed, and empowered. In Jesus You Are: Understanding Your Identity in Christ is a four-week Bible study focusing on our identity in Christ. This Bible study journal includes selected Scripture passages that show us who we are in Jesus. These passages explore what Christ has done for us and how it changes our lives. Also included are 20 daily devotions offering deeper understanding of Scripture. You'll also find pages for daily Scripture reading, observation, application, and prayer, along with weekly challenges and questions, perfect for personal reflection or group discussion. This four-week Bible study is perfect for personal or small group study. In addition to the four-week In Jesus You Are reading plan, devotions, reflection questions, and challenges, this journal contains an additional two-week reading plan and journaling pages for further study. After studying your identity in Christ, you can continue with a short, two-week study through a few chapters of the book of Psalms, further displaying the character of God and the identity He has given us. In Jesus You Are: Understanding Your Identity in Christ is a Love God Greatly study journal designed to help women grow in their faith. Love God Greatly is a global ministry, providing quality resources to guide women to a greater understanding of God's Word. Through beautifully designed journals translated into over 35 languages, we help women all over the world to grow in their relationship with God. Love God Greatly Bible Study Journals feature: S.O.A.P. study method easy-to-follow reading plan full NET passages testimony and authentic recipe from real women around the world space to journal daily devotionals beautiful photographs reflection questions corresponding children's journals available NEW bridge section (includes 2 extra weeks to keep you in the Bible between studies) Practices for God's Beloved InterVarsity Press Since colonial days, religious work in American has happened through denominations. At least since the start of the twentieth century, these religious bodies consisted of a fairly tight, intra-denominationally connected system of congregations, regional judicatories, and national offices. This system was the product of more than two centuries of consolidation among American's historic immigrant and indigenous churches. The vast majority of these structures are still in place, retain some semblance of internal coherence, have considerable social and religious significance, and will be with us for the foreseeable future. Nevertheless, the stresses upon them today clearly indicate that they are entering an unsettled period of transition. The purpose of this book is to examine the national structures of eight diverse Protestant denominations as a part of that shift. The frame of this study is the relationship between the theological and organizational nature of national denominational structures as they adapt to the changing situation of the twenty-first century.

Think and Speak Like God
Restoring Mankind's True Identity
In a time when fear has gripped the heart of the world through pandemics, divisions, abuse of authority, and uncertainty of what the future holds for humanity, believers in Jesus Christ must arise as the light of the world and the salt of the earth: the conduits that God uses to demonstrate faith over fear and overcome the world to testify that Jesus is Lord. This book is designed to empower people to discover God's true identity for their lives as humans made in His image and likeness. Furthermore, this book shows how God restores any human that turns to Him to walk in His original intent for their lives. This book also equips people to reposition themselves to learn how to think and speak like God, as Jesus Christ teaches and encourages all who believe in Him to do as He did (John 14:12-15). If you are tired of living a life full of fear, confusion, and defeat, and you have the desire to start your journey towards your purpose on this earth to overcome the world and its challenges, then this book is for you. Too many people live with no direction, wandering about an aimless life. The distortion and endless frustration presented in this life and its challenges were never God's original intent for humanity. If you ever wondered why you are not getting any results and victory in this life journey, whether personally or professionally, you must not miss this opportunity to be empowered by this book. Decide right now to start living the victorious life God created you to live by investing in yourself, beginning with this book. Your life will never be the same if you seek God and allow the Holy Spirit to be your teacher throughout this book and everything else in life. The opportunity to let go of a life with no direction full of confusion and fear is one decision away. Do not delay the restoration process of your God-given identity and the price that Jesus Christ paid on the cross for you to walk as more than a conqueror in life. Author Geovanni Israel Guerra: a devoted son and servant of God in Christ Jesus, a husband, father, student, teacher, and minister of the Gospel of the Kingdom of God. Minister Guerra calling is among the fivefold ministry gifts written in Ephesians 4:11-16 to build, encourage, exhort and comfort all who will receive the Word of God. Geovanni is also a businessman with a passion for the mission field but never at the cost of his first ministry, his family. By the grace of God, Minister Guerra is the founder of World Wide Ministries 4 Yeshua. He reaches various cultures and provides aid in multiple forms proclaiming the good news of the Gospel of the Kingdom of God to all people. Minister Guerra is appointed to preach and teach the Word of God, winning the lost, restoring unity in the Body of Christ, and empowering believers through revelation and demonstration of the anointing and fire of the Holy Spirit. Guerra is a 2007 graduate from the School of Ministry at Living Word Bible Training Center and was ordained in 2011 under the covering of Faith Ministry

Alliance (FMA) through Living Word Christian Center located in Forest Park, Illinois. Minister Guerra is a true man of God who enjoys every season of life that God has gifted him with and understands that what God has shown him will come to pass as God has spoken.

WHO ARE YOU? For respected New Testament scholar Klyne Snodgrass, this is the most important question a person can ask—the question from which everything else in life flows. Other questions follow: What made you who you are? Who gets to say who you are? And—perhaps most vital—Who does God say you are? In this book Snodgrass offers wise guidance to all who are wrestling with such universal human questions. He examines nine factors—including one's body, personal history, commitments, and boundaries—that shape human identity, and he expertly draws out what the Bible tells us about who God says we are, how we fit within God's purposes, and how our God-given identity can and must impact the way we live our lives.

Who Am I? Routledge Transgendering Faith is a resource to help churches respond with love and care to transgender people in our society, both those within the Christian community and those who find themselves--unhappily--outside its doors. It is also a book for transgender Christians, their families, pastoral counselors, and clergy. The first section, The Basics for Everyone, includes essays written by professionals and therapists who give readers a basic understanding of the transgender issue. Part Two--In Our Own Words--features stories of transgender persons from diverse denominational, age, ethnic, and racial backgrounds. These are stories of their painful experiences of rejection, self-doubt, and Bible-flavored condemnation, but also stories celebrating God's blessing of who they are and their church and family experiences of hospitality, affirmation, and reconciliation. Part Three includes worship resources, Bible studies, and transgender resources for individual and community use.

Who You Are in Christ Springer
 This tract shows men what God says about them in his Word and orients them to foundational truths about their identity in Christ--enabling them to be the men God is calling them

Identity. The heart, mind, and will of God is that we as the peoples around the globe know who God is, understand the love of God in that He deeply and faithfully loves you without bias, and that God wants you to come to a place of sincere faith where you stop running from God and take responsibility for your sins right now! How do we get our identity in the first place? By faith in God (Heb. 11:1-6 and John 3:1-18). Henceforward, it is by faith, trust, and hope in the LORD Jesus Christ (Eph. 2:8-10) by calling upon His holy name (Ps. 18:1-3), confessing (Rom. 10:9-17) and repenting (Prov. 28:13 and Matt.

4:17 and Mark 1:15) of your sins. True repentance (willfully and decisively forsaking our unholy anti-God thinking, believing, habits, speaking, and behavior) is the fear of the LORD in being sorry for your sins deliberately and turning to God asking for forgiveness while declaring with audible speaking that Jesus Christ is the living Son of God, raised from the grave on the third day. This is salvation, and it is free! Do you know my friend Jesus? Identity found in

Christ and explained in Part Two helps us to answer the following critical questions that our teenagers and millions of peoples around the world are asking right now: Who am I? What is my identity? What is my name that no one seems to know or care about? Why was I even born in the first place? Why am I alive today? What's the point to my life, and what is my purpose? Where do I fit in? Where am I? Why should I keep living? Why should I care? Why should I not take all these drugs or slit my wrists/throat right now? Does anyone love me? Does anyone care about me? Does God see me? Does God care about me or love me? Where is God right now? The solution to our global identity crisis is found in the love of God through the cross of Jesus Christ. The power, grace, mercy, and compassion of Christ is the only solution that can even begin to answer the above listed identity questions. The identity scream is horrifying and real! Peoples around the world are screaming in their souls right now: "Just bring me to Jesus!" Only Jesus Christ can fill our souls. Not money, sex, drugs, alcohol, or anything in this world can save our souls from sin or fulfill us with true peace and happiness. Pray before and during the reading of Part Two. Ask God what He wants to do with and through your life (Luke 8:21 and Luke 9:23). Praise the LORD (Ps. 150:1-6).

Worship Leader magazine has named From Tablet to Table one of the five best books of 2015! What if the Bible were seen less as a tablet of ink than as a table of food? From Tablet to Table invites readers to explore the importance of The Table in biblical theology, and what it might mean for us to bring back the table to our homes, our churches, and our neighborhoods. The table pictures the grace of God's provision for all aspects of our lives, a place of safe gathering, of finding identity in shared stories, of imparting food and faith, of playing host and finding satisfaction as a guest. Sweet explores how our failure to understand and appreciate "the most sacred item of furniture in every home" has created such a deficit in our fast-food, take-what-you-like-smorgasbord, together-but-separate society.

The Identities of God and Man is the most basic explanation of Christianity since Martin Luther. We intuitively know that being "good," serving others and suffering for the faith do not create personal identity, worth or motives. The Identities of God and Man shows us God the Creator and Man his Image and demonstrates that personal meaning proceeds from these identities. D.C. Goodman illuminates the complete Christian system of thought without dependence upon a specific 'brand' of Christianity by relying entirely upon the Bible and his observations of mankind during 40 years of continuous reflection.

Judeo Christianity is a system of thought from the mind of the Creator God. To understand this system, remove all your presuppositions about God and mankind and begin with his definition of us. Verify his definitions by observing mankind. Thankfully, D.C. Goodman has done this yeoman's work for us in the seminal work the Identities of God and Man. Perhaps the most compelling part of the Identities of God and Man is the reconnection of forgiveness to daily living that the early Christians enjoyed so thoroughly. D.C. Goodman calls this reconnection "living in forgiveness." Using God's infinity as a reference, Goodman demonstrates that God's forgiveness in Christ liberates those that live in this state enabling them to demonstrate the renewed Image of God instead of attempting to placate or please God by their behavior. One does "good" to express the forgiven state instead of doing good to maintain a state of grace. The Identities of God and Man is written for the 'broken' people who have read countless books searching for purpose and meaning only to be disappointed. We believe The Identities of God and Man will not disappoint.

Identity Bethany House

This book offers a unique argument for the emergence of a post-9/11 vampire that showcases changing perspectives on identity and religion in American culture, offering a look at how cultural narratives can be used to work through trauma.

Cultural narratives have long played a valuable role in mediating difficult and politically sensitive topics. Christina Wilkins addresses how the figure of the vampire is used in modern narratives and how it has changed from previous incarnations, particularly in American narratives. The vampire has been a cultural staple for centuries but the current conception of the figure has been arguably Americanized with the rise of the modern American vampire coinciding with the aftermath of 9/11. Wilkins investigates changes evident in cultural representations, and how they effectively mediate the altered approach to issues of trauma and identity. By investing metaphorical tropes with cultural significance, the book offers audiences the opportunity to consider new perspectives and prompt important discussions while also illuminating changes in societal attitudes.
